Strukta Group, headquartered in Andover, is a specialist builders' merchants with more than 40 years' experience within the construction industry.

Operating from multiple locations across the south coast of England, Strukta Group prides itself on delivering what customers' need, when they need it, including offering a trusted next day delivery service.

Venture Security was approached by Strukta Group in early 2019 when the company began investigating options for local security providers who could provide key holding and alarm response services.

After initially being contracted to look after the company's headquarters in Andover, Venture was quickly made responsible for Strukta's other sites in Salisbury, Chandlers Ford, Portsmouth, Chichester and most recently Weybridge.

Alongside key holding and alarm response, Venture also supports Strukta with mobile security patrols at critical times, such as during seasonal shutdowns. These patrols ensure everything on site is as it should be and limits any window of opportunity for a break-in to occur, giving Strukta complete peace of mind.

“We didn't want our employees to risk coming face to face with a dangerous situation when responding to an alarm callout, and Venture offered the perfect solution. As a company, they are very professional, reliable and always arrive on site quickly. They are also very proactive and we know help and advice is just a phone call away. I highly recommend them to anyone seeking professional security support.”
